

University of California, San Diego

UCSD is planning to add another audiologist to our team in the near future. The position hasn't been posted yet, but I thought I'd plant the seed in case you hear of anyone who might be seeking a job. It will be primarily a clinical audiology position for evaluation/treatment of the adult population, but we're hoping to find someone who might also be interested in precepting students or teaching in the AuD program.