

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN DEAF EDUCATION (MSDE)

Washington University in St. Louis offers a two-year MSDE program that prepares students as teachers of children who are deaf or hard of hearing (ages birth to grade 12). Drawing from the fields of speech-language pathology, education, and audiology, students learn to help children develop listening and spoken language skills through current auditory technologies and teaching strategies. Affiliated with an on-campus school for the deaf and local public and private school programs, students have unparalleled access to practice teaching opportunities.

Highlights:

- Scholarship funding covers 75% of tuition costs for all students
- Over 500 hours of student teaching experience
- Fully eligible for teacher certification (Missouri, D/HOH, Birth-Grade 12) upon graduation
- No prerequisite courses or GRE required
- 100% job placement after graduation

APPLICATION DEADLINES:

- December 15th (Early Decision)
- February 1st (Regular Decision)
- Rolling admissions through June 1

REQUIRED MATERIALS:

- Completed application ($25 application fee)
- Transcripts from all schools attended (unofficial accepted)
- Personal statement and resume
- Three letters of recommendation

QUESTIONS?

Visit us online at the link below or email us at pacs@wustl.edu

